TOURNAMENTS

Riely Chin Of Clovis, CA,
Wins $20,000

What an amazing week of bowling at The Orleans Hotel & Casino! We had our largest summer event ever by about 40% with over 750 bowlers, 4,300 entries and 9,000 games bowled in 6 days! I want to thank everyone for coming out to support this TAT event and thank our title sponsors Roto Grip and The Orleans for their hospitality and support of our staff and bowlers.

This event was one of the smoothest and best run events in TAT History. Our new computer program and check in process shortened lines and made things much easier for our bowlers and staff.

The TAT app also made squad changes and getting results and tournament updates easier then ever before.

Riely Chin from Clovis, CA is our 2021 TAT Summer Champion winning $20,000! He narrowly defeated Alyssa Ferraro from Deltona, FL who was on a mission to be the first TAT female Champion. Alyssa had 5 in a row going into the 10th but got a little quick and went 7/7 to finish with 235 and force Riely to strike in the 10th.

Riely struck in the 10th and had a clean game of 245 to win the TAT Crystal Cup.

Alyssa Ferraro finished second for $10,000 while Vu Duong and his unorthodox style finished 3rd for $7,000.

Michael Perrone in the 51+ Over Senior Division finished 4th while Alex Castillo from Azusa, CA took home 5th Place and $5,000.

All together our Sunday finals paid out over $200,000 and the event paid out over $300,000 in Cash & Prizes!

James Allen from Las Vegas, NM won The Roto Grip Challenge and $5,000. It came down to a three way tie and a sudden death roll off for $5,000 between James, Chase Nadeau, and Alex Archundia. James eventually struck to win the $5,000 and his first Roto Grip Challenge Title.

The TAT would not be possible without our amazing Sponsors! Storm and Roto Grip are dedicated to growing the Sport of Bowling and have shown this year after year. They gave out advice and information as well as over 500 Roto Grip bowling balls. Thank you for your dedication and support. The Orleans Hotel is one of my favorite Hotels in Vegas. With a beautiful bowling center, big hotel rooms, and lots of food choices, its easy for our bowlers to love the Orleans. Thank you for your hospitality.

TAT Amateur Classic:

Wesley Low Jr. Presented With Solid Aluminum 900 Trophy Made By MOTIV® At Junior Gold

MOTIV® staffer, Wesley Low Jr., made history by rolling a perfect USBC-approved 900 series on Sunday, July 19, 2020 at the 44th Annual Ponderosa Singles Classic at Glenfair Lanes in Glendale, Arizona.

Shortly afterward, the team at MOTIV® began working on plans for a special trophy to be presented to Wesley. "Not only was this accomplishment a first for Wesley, but his 900 series was also the first ever with a MOTIV® bowling ball so it was very special for our entire company", said Scott Hewitt, Vice President of Sales and Marketing at MOTIV® Bowling.

The impressive solid aluminum 900 trophy was designed, cut, engraved, and polished by the family of employees at MOTIV® so it truly is a special work of art. The presentation of the trophy was made to Wesley Low Jr. at the Junior Gold Championships in Indianapolis on Saturday, July 10th.

"It was a really fun presentation because Wesley had no idea that we were awarding him with the MOTIV® 900 trophy", said Hewitt. "We had a crowd of people in the MOTIV® booth and everyone was cheering for him. It was super cool...a great way to crown Wesley's impressive achievement since he is a Junior Gold super star".

And speaking of achievements, Wesley Low Jr. has an impressive list. At the age of 15, he won his first PBA® regional event. He won Junior Gold in 2013 and went on to win the all-events gold medal at the 2014 World Bowling Youth Championships. Then, in 2017, won Junior Gold again. After finishing college, Wesley decided to make 2020 his rookie season on the PBA® Tour and mid-year rolled his perfect 900 series.

"To join a short list of people in bowling's history is quite the honor and something I never thought that I could accomplish during my lifetime", Wesley said. "To achieve this perfection and share it with my MOTIV family is something I will remember forever."

IBMA Male Bowler Of The Year & Male Bowler Of The Decade Jason Belmonte

Jason Belmonte was the runaway winner for IBMA Male Bowler of the Year and Bowler of the Decade, known for being one of the first bowlers to gain media attention for using the two handed approach style to deliver his shot.

He has won 25 PBA titles, making him one of only 11 players in history with at least 25 PBA Tour wins.[2] His PBA Tour victories include a record 13 major championships, four of these in the USBC Masters, which is also a record.

He is one of two bowlers in PBA history to have won the Super Slam, winning all five PBA major titles (the other being Mike Aulby).

He has been named PBA Player of the Year six times. Belmonte accumulated $1 million (USD) in career PBA earnings faster than any player in history (131 tournaments), and surpassed the $1.5 million mark PBA earnings during the 2019 season.

Belmonte has 25 career 300 games in PBA Tour events through 2020, including the PBA's 21st nationally televised 300 in 2012.

IBMA Female Bowler Of The Decade Liz Johnson

Since the rebirth of the PWBA in 2015, Johnson has won eleven more PWBA Tour titles, including five more majors, for a total of 25 titles. This includes 22 titles on the PWBA Tour and three more major titles she won during the Tour's hiatus, which have retroactively been counted as PWBA titles. She won four additional professional titles during the PWBA Tour's hiatus, becoming a member of the Professional Bowlers Association (PBA) and the PBA Women's Series.

Johnson was elected to the United States Bowling Congress (USBC) Hall of Fame in December 2014, and was officially inducted on April 29, 2015.

At the 2005 PBA Banquet Open, Johnson became the first woman to defeat a man in a televised PBA Tour event, winning the semifinal match over Wes Malott. On November 18, 2017, Johnson became the second female bowler (after Kelly Kulick who won the 2010 PBA Tournament of Champions) to win a national PBA Tour title.

The third woman to defeat a man in a televised championship bowling match (the first was Lynda Barnes at the 2008 Clash of Champions, an event not hosted by the PBA Tour) and the first to win a non-major (standard) PBA Tour title.

T. Bette Addington

3/30/55----07/06/21

The world has not only lost Bette Addington, so have all the beneficiaries of her numerous charitable endeavors and many talents. Bette lost her valiant battle with Cancer on July 6, 2021, "peacefully" says her husband Chris who said "It was all we had asked for."

She had one failing – she couldn't say, "No," She was President of the CAornia Bowling Writers, served on the Bakersfield USBC Board of Directors, was instrumental in planning numerous charitable endeavors for her beloved Bakersfield Car Club Council and bowling events. She was forever creative in everything she did making it special. She was a gardener and loved growing beautiful flowers, her vegetable garden and house plants. She also was involved in breeding Chocolate Labs.

If you have missed the Event Calendar Bette Addington puts out, you are among many as she was an integral part of many things. CBW President, the great Event Calendar she keeps up; a writer, she published a column in the Bakersfield CAornian – on-line and in print; she published a monthly newsletter for the Bakersfield Car Club Council she and her husband Chris are heavily involved in; She was always involved in her local association, the Bakersfield USBC of which she is a Life Member and Hall of Famer; Since 1984 she was the Controller for her husband's former Architectural firm Addington Associates. To top it all off she is a premier cookie baker and provided the delicious morsels on numerous occasions. As you can see, Bette was an almost irreplaceable entity in many things.

Married to Architect Chris for 43 years, she says "it is being a part of a team that has the same goals that really energizes me." Bette is a Bakersfield native and says she met Chris on jury duty. They are both an "only child" and shared the love of cars, sports, and the ocean all which includes the love of her six grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Bette has been the recipient of CAornia WBA publicity awards for Outstanding Tournament Promotion (2001), Outstanding Overall Reporting (1998, 1999), the Lucelle Ware Memorial Award for Overall Excellence in Writing (1998) and National Women Bowling Writers Publicity Chairman of the Year award (2001) and the prestigious Mary Jannetto Award for Outstanding Local Bowling Promotion. Topping it off is her latest honor, being inducted into the Bakersfield WBA Hall of Fame in 2005 and CAornia USBC Hall of Fame (2021.) All this and she carried a 181 bowling average! She enjoyed working with youth. She started bowling in high school (hoping to meet someone interesting.) Chris was the bowler and after a disastrous start she decided the goal was to "beat Chris."

Bette shared Chris' love for building and re-building classic cars and they have won awards all over the Western U.S. and Canada. They even took one to Sweden and won there. Their latest is a 1940 Ford truck "Purple Sage" – a favorite of hers.

The CAornia bowling Writers say goodbye to a very special part of us.

Mary Lynly,
CAornia Bowling Writers

From Husband Chris:

T. Bette Addington, age 66 of Bakersfield, CA and Prescott, AZ, beloved wife, mother and Grandma, drew her last breath July 06, 2021, in her final battle with Cancer. She is now with the angels and flying above us. She will be forever cruising in her cars with friends, bowling with the angels and rocking music thru the heavens.

We will be having a simple service that will be about the good things of life, no tear parties, filled with happiness and positive future. Her mission in life is not where you been but where you are going.

The family invites you make a donation to the Bakersfield Car Club Council, in Bette's name.

Mail to 3434 Truxtun Ave, Suite 290, Bakersfield, CA 93301. BCCC PayPal is Ranchmink@gmail.com Funds will be donated to local children's charities of Kern County, in Bette's Name.

Helen Duval's Bowling Tips

Stance Position

On television you may have seen a broad jumper, high jumper or pole vaulter start at his take-off spot and walk in the direction of his starting position. A kickoff specialist toes up the football, faces away from the receiving team and steps toward his goal line. Each expert is stepping off his approach to find his exact starting spot or stance position.

Bowlers use a similar system. Standing three or four inches behind the foul line, they face away from the pins, take 4½ good-size steps toward the back of the approach and turn toward the foul line. The extra half-step allows for the slide. That is the first fundamental in finding the starting spot or point of origin.

Then, use marks on the approach and lane called range finders, because they help you focus on the bowling target, just as a camera range finder helps you focus on your photographic subject.

There are two sets of five dots across the approach, seven more near the foul line, and seven arrows or darts about 15 feet down the lane. Right-handers count from the right channel, left-handers from the left channel, so my instructions apply to both.

Take time out for a minute to follow the first dot down the board on the approach. You'll find it is on the same board as the second dot at the foul line, and on the same board as the second arrow or dart. I'll tell you the reason for this later.

You're starting spot 4½ steps back of the foul line should be near the first row of dots, or 12-foot line. Face the pins. Put your feet together, sliding foot slightly ahead, or it's more comfortable the feet can be parallel.

Let your bowling arm hang straight down your hip, fingers extended toward the floor. Point them over the first outside dot on the approach. This is your starting position 4½ steps from the foul line.

Starting on the right foot, if you are right-handed, and on the left foot if you are left-handed, walk straight down the board from the starting point to the foul line and pretend to deliver the ball. Let's practice this. Without the ball, take your starting position and go through the four-step delivery. Check your position. Did you sliding foot finish at the foul line spot corresponding to the spot where you started back on the approach?

Be sure to keep the knees flexed so you can more or less creep to the foul line. Don't rush. Take it slowly and easy. Bowling ball power comes from a pendulum swing of the arm and timing and coordination, not speed of delivery.

Flexed knees and creeping approach put you into a position to have the bent knee necessary for the successful slide just before you deliver the ball.

All right. You have found the starting spot and practiced the delivery. Now you're ready to bowl.

Before delivery, move the ball slightly to the bowling arm side of your body, with most of the weight of the ball in your non-bowling hand. It will clear the hip when swung with the proper pendulum motion. Squeeze the ball slightly with the ring and middle fingers. This firms up the wrist for control and reminds you to lift and roll the ball.

It also takes pressure off the thumb, helps put on the "stuff" that imparts the required roll and gets the ball out over the foul line. There is no way to bowl correctly if you drop the ball at your side when it is delivered behind the foul line.

The bowling hand should be in a handshake position from the start of the delivery to finish.

Remember, squeezing the ball slightly with the ring and middle fingers helps keep a nearly straight line from the knuckles to elbow.

Right-handers: Hold the ball with the thumb pointed at 10:00 or 11:00. Left-handers: The thumb should be pointed at 1:00 or 2:00. Remember: No broken wrist, please. Keep your hand straight from elbow to knuckles.

Make the approach and delivery. Did the ball roll over the second arrow?

How about the thumb? Was it in the 10:00 or 11:00 (1:00 or 2:00) position? Was the hand extended toward the pins? Were the middle and ring fingers cocked as they were in the bowling ball? Were the sliding knee bent and foot pointed toward the target?

If you're doing all these fundamentals right and still bowling poorly, timing or lack of coordination may be your problem. They will be explained in future lessons.

Three New TEAM USA Athletes Join USBC Board Of Directors, Four Incumbent Directors Return

by Aaron Smith

ARLINGTON, Texas – Kendra Cameron-Curry, Brittni LaGeorge and Ron Mohr have been elected as new athlete representatives to the United States Bowling Congress Board of Directors.

The three new board members will start their terms Aug. 1, 2021. They fill newly created seats for Team USA athletes on the USBC Board of Directors to meet new requirements from the United States Olympic & Paralympic Committee.

Cameron-Curry's initial term is for one year, while LaGeorge and Mohr will serve three-year terms.

Cameron-Curry, from St. Cloud, Florida, is a USBC Hall of Famer and spent five years as a Team USA member (1995-1998, 2010). She captured a gold medal in team competition and bronze in trios at the 1997 PANAM Bowling Adult Championships and was the runner-up at the 1995 QubicaAMF Bowling World Cup.

She is a two-time Professional Women's Bowling Association champion, four-time USBC Women's Championships titlist and currently works as the Regional Director of Bowling for Aloma Bowling Centers.

LaGeorge, from Nashville, Tennessee, is a five-time Team USA member (2011, 2013-2016) and three-time member of Junior Team USA (2009-2011). She won two gold medals (doubles and team) at the 2009 PANAM Bowling Youth Championships and a silver medal in singles at the 2010 International Bowling Federation Youth Championships. She won the 2014 USBC Team USA Trials and finished third later that year at the World Cup.

The 2008 Alberta E. Crowe Star of Tomorrow serves as the Assistant Director of Student Services at Vanderbilt University, where she was a four-time National Tenpin Coaches Association All-American from 2009-2012.

Mohr, from Las Vegas, is a three-time Team USA member (1989, 1991, 1998) and has represented Senior Team USA in each of the four editions of the International Bowling Federation Senior Championships, collecting 14 medals, including 8 golds.

The Professional Bowlers Association Hall of Famer is an 11-time PBA50 titlist and two-time PBA60 champion. Before joining the PBA50 Tour, Mohr had a 25-year career as an Air Traffic Control Specialist for the Federal Aviation Administration in Anchorage, Alaska.

In addition to the three new members, Josie Barnes of Hermitage, Tennessee, was reelected to a second three-year term as a Team USA Director. Barnes is a current and nine-time Team USA member and serves as the associate head coach for Vanderbilt's women's bowling team.

USBC Bylaws, in accordance with USOPC requirements as the National Governing Body of the sport, state at least 33.3% of the USBC Board of Directors must be comprised of Team USA athletes, who are to be elected by Team USA athletes.

Three additional incumbents also will rejoin the USBC Board of Directors starting Aug. 1, 2021.

USBC President Melissa McDaniel of Raleigh, North Carolina, was elected to return by the International Bowling Campus Youth Committee. McDaniel is the youth director and head coach for Buffalo Lanes Family Bowling Centers.

The National Bowling Association reappointed Cornell M. Jackson of Kilmarnock, Virginia, to serve a three-year term on the USBC Board of Directors. Jackson worked professionally as a computer systems analyst with the University of District Columbia before retiring and is a Life Member and TNBA Hall of Fame member.

The Bowling Proprietors' Association of America reappointed BPAA President Jim Decker of Rohnert Park, CA to the USBC Board of Directors. Decker owns and operates Double Decker Lanes and is a second-generation proprietor with more than 45 years of experience in the industry.

2021 Bowlers Journal Championships Concludes In Las Vegas

by Matt Cannizzaro

LAS VEGAS - After more than two months of competition, the 2021 Bowlers Journal Championships presented by the United States Bowling Congress wrapped up this week at The Orleans Bowling Center inside The Orleans Hotel & Casino.

Bowlers from across the country competed in this year's event, which featured the 39-foot doubles and singles oil pattern from the 2021 USBC Open Championships.

The two tournaments have been held simultaneously in the same host city for 74 years. The 2021 edition of the Open Championships took place across town at the South Point Bowling Plaza and South Point Bowling Center.

All scores from the 2021 Bowlers Journal Championships are unofficial and pending verification. The tournament ran from April 30-July 17.

Former Team USA member Darren Tang of Las Vegas found success in three categories at the 2021 Bowlers Journal Championships, becoming the first person to do so since Craig Nidiffer of Dearborn Heights, Michigan, accomplished the feat in 2017.

Tang, a 28-year-old right-hander, has been on quite a run during the 2021 season.

After winning the 2020 Professional Bowlers Association West/Northwest Player of the Year award, Tang has yet to finish outside of the top-six in any of the PBA regional events he has participated in this year, claiming one title along the way.

He's in position to add to his growing resume and stellar 2021 after setting the pace in Open Singles, Open Doubles and in the Dual Entry portion of the 2021 Bowlers Journal Championships.

"I'm really not quite sure how to feel right now," Tang said. "I bowl for a living, and when you do that, you always hope to come out on top, but you can never be sure if a score is going to hold up. Thankfully, this time, it did."

Tang moved to the top of the Open Singles standings May 19 with games of 279, 245 and 269 for a 793 series, and he maintained his look for three additional games, teaming with fellow local Matthew Anderson to take the lead in Open Doubles with a 1,460 total. Anderson led the way with a 744 and Tang had 716.

Tyler Perry of New Bedford, Massachusetts, and Kevin Thibeault of Whitman, Massachusetts, matched the leading doubles score a month later and will share in the doubles title.

Being local to the tournament allowed Tang and Anderson to visit the event multiple times. Participants are allowed to compete eight times in each category for which they're eligible and may bowl with up to four doubles partners at once.

"It's actually kind of a funny story as to how we paired up," said Anderson, a 31-year-old right-hander and owner of a perfect game at the Open Championships (2014). "I saw him warming up and ran over and asked if he wanted to bowl doubles. He said he would, and even though I started the set terribly, we still were able to take the lead. I really didn't think that score would hold up. Luckily, it did."

Along with the Open Doubles performance, Tang and Anderson each bowled one of the three 300 games rolled during the 2021 Bowlers Journal Championships. Justin Knowles of Okemos, Michigan, bowled the other.

Also leading multiple events in 2021 was USBC Hall of Famer Lennie Boresch Jr. of Kenosha, Wisconsin.

The 59-year-old right hander topped the Senior Singles standings with a score of 760, which included games of 275, 259 and 226, and the performance helped him and Henry Posnanski of Milwaukee into the lead in Senior Doubles with a 1,436 total. Posnanski contributed a 676 set.

"It always feels nice to win," said Boresch, a three-time Open

Championships titlist. "We actually bowled after we finished at the Open Championships, since the tournament was dark for Memorial Day weekend. While I was disappointed with my performance there, I was able to find a good look at the Bowlers Journal. Thankfully, both score held up."

Boresch owns one other Bowlers Journal title, a Classic Singles win that came in the early 1990s.

Rounding out the scratch portion of the event, was PBA Tour titlist

Mike Mineman of Belleville, Illinois. The 62-year-old right-hander rolled the highest series in Super Senior Singles, a 767 set in May.

In the 175 & Under Handicap Singles, 28-year-old right-hander Trevor Golden of Ridgecrest, CA, rolled games of 179, 235 and 221, and his 84 pins of handicap helped him into the lead with a 719 series.

David Wolf of Clifton Park, New York, and Timothy Boyd of Bloomington, Minnesota, led the way in Handicap Doubles with a score of 1,257.

For the bowlers who chose to take advantage of the Dual Entry option at the Bowlers Journal Championships, there was the opportunity to use their three-game series for both singles and doubles at the same time. There is no additional entry fee for this option.

Tang's 793 topped the Dual Entry standings, while Boresch's 760 finished just outside of the top 10 but still will earn him some additional prize money, too.

Other offerings at the Bowlers Journal include a 30-Clean Jackpot, High Game Jackpot and Strike Jackpot.

Complete standings and prize details from the event will be posted on BOWL.com as soon as they become available.

2020 Luby Hall Of Fame Award Winner

Len Nicholson

Len Nicholson's first area of expertise is the field of lane maintenance, including developing a thorough grasp of all the physical intricacies of the sport. He has parlayed that — with the help of the power of his personality — into a later-life career in the bowling media.

The man behind the "Phantom Radio" show, Nicholson began producing the internet-based program on a weekly basis in 2002 at the urging of the late John Davis, founder of Kegel. Davis told him, "Len, people need to know what you know." Nicholson's interview subjects include experts from all areas of the bowling business, along with many of the biggest names in PBA history.

The IBMA Luby Hall of Fame Award is given to an individual (living or deceased) who has made a distinguished contribution to bowling in print, broadcast, telecast or photographic coverage over a period of at least ten years. The IBMA (BWAA/NWBW) has been presenting this award, considered the most prestigious bowling media award, for more than six decades.

The Award is named after the Luby family - Dave, Mort Sr. and Mort Jr. - for their dedication and longevity in the bowling print publication business.

2021 PWBA Tour Season Set To Resume

by Aaron Smith

ARLINGTON, Texas – The first half of the 2021 Professional Women's Bowling Association Tour season was filled with amazing stories, historic performances and the emergence of new stars, and the action is set to resume this week for the next swing on the schedule.

The Professional Bowlers Association/PWBA Striking Against Breast Cancer Mixed Doubles event got things underway from July 29 - Aug. 1 at Houston's Copperfield Bowl and be followed by the PWBA Summer Classic Series from Aug. 2-10 at the International Training and Research Center in Arlington, TX

The PWBA Tour then will head to the Pacific Northwest for the PWBA Spokane Open at Lilac Lanes & Casino in Spokane, Washington, from Aug. 19-21, before competition in August concludes with the U.S. Women's Open, the final major of the 2021 season.

The U.S. Women's Open will take place at Double Decker Lanes in Rohnert Park, CA., from Aug. 24-31.

For the final events on the 2021 schedule, the PWBA Tour will return to the National Bowling Stadium in Reno, NV, and the 78-lane venue will host the PWBA Fall Classic Series from Oct. 24-30. The NBS also hosted the United States Bowling Congress Queens in May.

The 2021 PBA/PWBA Striking Against Breast Cancer Mixed Doubles will begin with the event's official practice sessions Thursday, before competition gets underway Friday with the first of four qualifying squads, beginning at 9 a.m. Eastern.

Each mixed doubles team will bowl seven qualifying games to determine which teams advance to Sunday's semifinal round, which will feature five additional games. The top eight teams will advance to round-robin match play, with total pinfall, including bonus pins, determining this year's champions.

Every round of the 2021 PBA/PWBA Striking Against Breast Cancer Mixed Doubles will be broadcast live by FloBowling and simulcast to BowITV.com.

PWBA Tour champion Amanda Greene of Romney, West Virginia, and Kyle Sherman of O'Fallon, Missouri, won the 2019 event.

The Summer Classic Series will feature three national tour stops and one regional tournament during the event's nine-day run at the home of Team USA. The national events will include the PWBA Go Bowling Classic (Aug. 3-5), PWBA International Bowling Campus Classic (Aug. 6-7) and PWBA BowITV Classic (Aug. 9-10). The PWBA Dallas/Fort Worth Regional will take place Aug. 8.

The Summer Classic Series field will be limited to 56 players, with athletes in the top 48 on the season-long points list receiving an invitation to the main event. One exemption from the USBC and Bowling Proprietors' Association of America also was granted into the main event for the Summer Classic Series – Junior Team USA member Jillian Martin of Stow, Ohio.

Martin, a 17-year-old right-hander, put together a memorable run at the PWBA Kickoff Classic Series in January to start the 2021 season, posting second- and third-place finishes in three events. She recently finished as the top qualifier in the 18-and-under division at the 2021 Junior Gold Championships in Indianapolis.

The final seven spots at the Summer Classic Series will be filled through an on-site pre-tournament qualifier Aug. 2. The qualifying event will include nine games.

All 56 players will compete at the Go Bowling Classic and International Bowling Campus Classic. Both events will feature nine games of qualifying, before the top 12 players advance to round-robin match play. After 12 games of match play, the top four bowlers will advance to the stepladder finals, based on total pinfall and bonus pins for each victory in match play.

The BowITV Classic will feature the top 24 players from the Go Bowling Classic and International Bowling Campus Classic, based on 18-game qualifying totals. Total pinfall will drop at the start of the BowITV Classic, and the 24 advancers will bowl 24 games of round-robin match play to determine the five bowlers for the stepladder finals, based on total pinfall and bonus pins.

The Dallas/Fort Worth Regional will feature an eight-game qualifying block, with the top four players, based on total pinfall, advancing to the stepladder finals. Each of the stepladder finals will air live at 9 p.m. Eastern on BowITV. Dates of the stepladder finals are Aug. 5 (Go Bowling Classic), Aug. 7 (International Bowling Campus Classic), Aug. 8 (Dallas/Fort Worth Regional) Aug. 10 (BowITV Classic).

The three national events at the Summer Classic Series will further develop the tightly contested race for the PWBA Player of the Year and PWBA Rookie of the Year awards for the 2021 season. Both awards are determined at the end of the season and based on the season-long points list. Julia Bond of Aurora, Illinois, has maintained the lead in points (84,075) since winning her second title of the 2021 season at the USBC Queens, but three players have been keeping pace and are in position to make a run at the top of the list during the next swing.

Military Team Classic A Record Number of Teams Are Registered!

August 28, 2021 – Although we won't fill the 1,200 team maximum, this will be the largest ever! In 2019, 1,001 teams took part in a record-setting event and we are expecting a larger field, perhaps as high as 1,100 teams!

The Latest News

We are pleased to introduce Rick Ramsey, joining our staff with the position of overseeing competition. Many tournament bowlers know Rick from his current position of Tournament Director of the BTM that runs concurrently with the USBC Open Championships. Many know Rick from his days of Tournament Director of the PWBA.

From Rick, "I am looking forward to joining the High Roller team for the August Military Team Classic. I had the pleasure of bowling many of the High Roller events and have always respected the Edelman family for putting on wonderful events and consider it an honor to work with Brad, Chet, Wendy and their staff."

Sweeper Sidepots

Many bowlers enter the Optional bowling events that take place in the Bowling Center each day at the same time that the main events are being bowled in the Plaza.

And there is something for everyone: Open Age, Age 60 & Over, Ladies Only, Military Only, No Tap and Handicap & Scratch 5-Gamers.

In previous years, a portion of the entry fee included Sidepots. But because those optional events don't have large squads, instead of paying small Sidepots, we will use those funds to build the prizes in the prize list and add more prizes! Money well spent? We think so!

Not USBC certified for the first time due to lack of league bowling in 2020. Bowlers will not have to purchase a USBC card for this tournament but there are no honor scores available.

No Dress Code but we ask that you dress respectfully for the other contestants, spectators and sponsors. Shorts and hats are permissible.

Be sure to check out your bowling schedule at www.high-roller.com by clicking

Average Rules -This is a reminder that because of lack of league bowling in 2020, we are using your highest average from 2019-20 or 2018-19. See all average rules in the brochure at www.high-roller.com on the Brochures page.

Oil Patterns for the Plaza and Bowling Center are posted on the page August Info Here on the website www.high-roller.com!

How 'Bout Them Bowlers From CAornia! (Or Texas?) (Or Arizona?)

by Dave Williams

After writing about the coincidence of interest between current professional bowling star Anthony Simonsen and the legendary Hall of Fame kegler Billy Hardwick, I continued perusing old issues of the PBA Press, Radio and TV Guide. A theme that caught my eye among the tournament results was the number of bowlers from CAornia that appeared on the televised shows.

This reminded me of a tag line used by one of the publications, CAornia USBC News, that carries my weekly offerings... "The Best Bowlers Come From CAornia." Could this title have stemmed from all of those bowlers that were appearing from The Golden State on national television broadcasts during the 1970's and 1980's?

"So funny that you should ask," said editor Lynn Matsubara. "When the three state bowling organizations (CAornia State Bowling Association, CAornia Women's Bowling Association and the CAornia State Young American Bowling Alliance) all merged together in 2006, I created the tagline for all our marketing stuff."

"One crazy person on our board suggested that we should order 10,000 lapel pins with that tag line," said Lynn. "It's now fifteen years later, and I'm still trying to sell those pins!" But could that impressive tag line have been inspired subliminally from all of those CAornia bowlers appearing on PBA telecasts in the 1970's and 1980's?

One year in particular that stood out for me was 1979, when 20 of the 32 national broadcasts included at least one pro bowler from CAornia. No other state even came close in frequency of participants, and there was no real predominance by an individual, with the exception of superstar Mark Roth, who won five individual titles and two doubles events.

Without getting into too much detail, join me as we take a look at the top five finalists from the PBA telecasts in 1979 that hailed from CAornia:

Ford Open, Mel's Southshore Bowl, Alameda, CAornia
Steve Cook, Roseville, CAornia*
Butch Soper, Santa Ana, CAornia
Dale Glenn, Northridge, CAornia

Rolaid's Open, Dick Weber Lanes, Florissant, Missouri
Dan Roche, Downey, CAornia
Mal Acosta, Fremont, CAornia

Cleveland Open, Buckeye Lanes, North Olmstead, Ohio
Cliff McNealy, San Lorenzo, CAornia*
Butch Soper, Whittier, CAornia

Firestone 721 Classic, Western Sunset Bowl, Miami, Florida
Ron Lisher, Santa Rosa, CAornia
Butch Soper, Whittier, CAornia

Fair Lanes Open, University Lanes, Adelphi, Maryland
Larry Laub, San Francisco, CAornia*

King Louie Open, West Lanes, Overland Park, Kansas
Alvin Lou, El Cajon, CAornia

Miller High Life Open, Celebrity Lanes, Milwaukee, Wisconsin
Dave Frame, Baldwin Park, CAornia

Long Island Open, Garden City Bowl, Garden City, New York
Cliff McNealy, San Lorenzo, CAornia

Midas Golden Challenge, Northwest Bowl, Palatine, Illinois
Steve Cook, Roseville, CAornia
Jim Poulos, Daly City, CAornia
Butch Soper, Whittier, CAornia

Columbia Doubles Classic, Saratoga Lanes, San Jose, CAornia
Larry Laub, Santa Rosa, CAornia
Palmer Fallgren, Sacramento, CAornia

City of Roses Open, Timber Lanes, Portland, Oregon
Jay Robinson, Van Nuys, CAornia

Seattle Open, Leilani Lanes, Seattle, Washington
Larry Laub, Santa Rosa, CAornia
Southern CAornia Open, Gable House Bowl, Torrance, CAornia

Cliff McNealy, San Lorenzo, CAornia
Warren Nelson, Downey, CAornia
Gip Lentine, Rowland Heights, CAornia

Amarillo Open, Amarillo Bowl, Amarillo, Texas
Fred Conner, Mar Vista, CAornia

Waukegan Open, Bertrand Lanes, Waukegan, Illinois
Bill George, Citrus Heights, CAornia
Gip Lentine, Rowland Heights, CAornia

Buffalo Open, Thruway Lanes, Cheektowaga, New York
Rich Carrubba, Hayward, CAornia

Sarasota Open, Galaxy Lanes, Sarasota, Florida
Steve Cook, Roseville, CAornia

Brunswick Regional Champions Classic, Olympic Bowl, Rochester, New York
Dale Glenn, Northridge, CAornia

Kessler Open, Nottke's Bowl, Battle Creek, Michigan
Larry Laub, Santa Rosa, CAornia*
Fred Conner, Mar Vista, CAornia
Dave Frame, Baldwin Park, CAornia

Syracuse Open, Holiday Bowl, Syracuse, New York
Alvin Lou, El Cajon, CAornia

denotes winner of tournament*

Wow, what memories! It's amazing how many different players from CAornia advanced to the top five. Looking ahead twenty years to 1998, the number of CAornians qualifying for the televised finals was about half as much... and dominated by just one bowler - Walter Ray Williams Jr.! For those of you that don't know, Walter Ray was originally from Stockton, CAornia, before moving to Ocala, Florida in 1999. The future Hall of Famer, and possibly the greatest bowler in history, made 15 of 29 top five appearances in 1998, earning $240,554 (adjusted for inflation, that's equivalent to $395,070 in 2021). The only other CAornia bowler to crack the top five was Jason Hurd of Visalia, CAornia, who went on to win the Resident Pro Championship from Honolulu, Hawaii.

So what's the big difference between 1979 and 1998? Matsubara seems to feel that the major change could be attributed to all of the bowling centers that have closed in CAornia. "Membership numbers have been declining each year since the housing and stock market crash of 2008," states Lynn. "And when a bowling center closes, we lose about 30% of those bowlers because they won't travel to another center."

Looking approximately twenty years forward to 2021, the number of CAornia kegglers that have made the top five on a national broadcast has been reduced to... only one! Florida has forged into the lead of this topic, with nine appearances. However, half of the tournaments in the current season have been conducted in Florida, making this number slightly skewed in favor of pros from The Sunshine State.

Texas, Arizona and North Carolina were next, each with six appearances by professionals from their respective states. This fits right into Matsubara's contention that the number of bowling centers and closings could be the answer, since bowling centers and populations are booming in Texas, Arizona, North Carolina and Florida. Conversely, CAornia has actually had a decline in population (and definitely in bowling centers) in recent years, for the first time since the Gold Rush era that began in 1849.

Continuing with the theme of this article, and utilizing the phrase that was once made famous by Dallas Cowboy's coach Jimmy Johnson, it might now be appropriate to say, How 'Bout Them Bowlers from Texas! (Or Arizona?) (Or North Carolina?) (Or Florida?). We will have to wait and see what the next twenty years will tell us...

Portions of the above article were derived from PBA Press, Radio and TV Guides, and from PBA.com.

2021 USBC WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIPS CONCLUDES IN RENO

By Aaron Smith

RENO, NV. - The 101st edition of the United States Bowling Congress Women's Championships came to a close July 3 at the National Bowling Stadium, with the 2021 event featuring several record-breaking performances during its 72-day run.

The 2021 USBC Women's Championships kicked off April 23 and welcomed 2,552 four-player teams to Reno. Participants competed in four average-based divisions in team competition (Diamond, Ruby, Emerald and Sapphire) and six divisions in doubles, singles and all-events (Diamond, Ruby, Emerald, Sapphire, Amethyst and Topaz).

All standings are unofficial and pending final verification.

Go Bowling's Partnership With Macy's, Nascar, National Bowling Day On Fox And A National Ad Campaign Lead Major Industry Marketing Initiatives For Second Half Of 2021

'FOX & Friends' to Shine the Spotlight on National Bowling Day, Marking the Fifth Time the Holiday Has Been Celebrated on National TV

ARLINGTON, Texas – On Saturday, Aug. 14, the country will commemorate National Bowling Day, and the bowling industry is ready to make this the biggest celebration yet. Strike Ten Entertainment, via the Go Bowling platform, is rolling out an unprecedented marketing effort to build upon the momentum of a revitalized industry, post pandemic.

On tap to help raise awareness and drive consumers to the lanes are five major tent-pole activations in quarters three and four of this year that will entertain millions of Americans:

- The "Go Bowling at The Glen" NASCAR race
- The new "Reunite With Your Team" national ad campaign
- An exclusive "FOX & Friends" live broadcast appearance
- The "Go Bowling 250" NASCAR Race
- Go Bowling's return to the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade

"Each year, Go Bowling features our sport in the brightest light across the country," said John Harbuck, President of Strike Ten Entertainment, the consumer marketing arm of the bowling industry. "Last year had its challenges for everyone, but as the industry rebounds so impressively from the pandemic, we're doing everything we can to showcase bowling to the 67 million people who bowl each year. What better way to accomplish that than with our NASCAR events at Watkins Glen (New York) and Richmond (Virginia), a unique nationally televised celebration of bowling on National Bowling Day, the launch of our biggest advertising campaign in years and by marking the beginning of the holidays with an encore appearance in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade?"

Go Bowling supports National Bowling Day with numerous activities that drive families and friends to the lanes around the country. On Aug. 8, Go Bowling returns to Watkins Glen for the Go Bowling at The Glen race and then moves on to Richmond on Sept. 11 for the Go Bowling 250. At both tracks, Go Bowling will have a special car-wrap for the #10 and the #98 Go Bowling Ford Mustangs, driven by Aric Almirola and Riley Herbst, respectively. Each event will have bowling-themed fan engagement activations in the track's Fan Midway areas for race attendees to have fun and a chance to win NASCAR and Go Bowling prizes.

Go Bowling will roll out a new national advertising campaign beginning on Aug. 9. Under the theme of "Reunite With Your Team," the commercial spot will air across national broadcast and national cable TV through the end of September to encourage people of all ages to get back on the lanes. The Go Bowling media schedule, developed by Horizon Media, ensures that the ads are running during high-traffic time slots in August and September, including during NASCAR races, key baseball matchups, Major League Soccer matches, and across other major non-sports networks such as FOX News, Food Network, Comedy Central and others.

Go Bowling then returns to New York City for bowling's big close-up on national TV, when Bowling Proprietors' Association of America President Jim Decker and other bowling personalities join the hosts of "FOX & Friends" to celebrate National Bowling Day on Aug. 14. Plans include Decker presenting the "FOX & Friends" hosts with their very own custom bowling equipment so they can show off their form on a portable lane on the FOX Square in Manhattan.

"National Bowling Day isn't just a single day — it's a celebration to showcase how much the bowling world has evolved and grown over the past year," said Decker. "Go Bowling will leverage our NASCAR and Macy's partnerships, the 'FOX & Friends' appearance, and our new national ad campaign to boost the industry even more and help bring the fun back to the nearly 70 million people who go bowling annually."

Later in 2021, Go Bowling will be back on national airwaves, as its partnership with Macy's has been extended through 2023. The bigger-than-life bowling ball and pin balloonics, along with the size 15½ bowling shoes, will be back on the parade route in front of millions of adoring fans in attendance and millions more viewing from home during the 2021 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City.

On behalf of the International Bowling Campus, Strike Ten Entertainment is fully supporting the National Bowling Day initiative. Digital marketing support materials are being created for all member centers to assist in promoting National Bowling Day to drive business locally.

USBC Women's Championships

Colombia's Maria José Rodriguez and Guatemala's Sofia Granda finished the 2021 event at the top of the leaderboard in Diamond Doubles, posting the first 1,500-plus doubles score in tournament history with a 1,560 total May 11.

Rodriguez became the ninth bowler at the Women's Championships to record an 800 series to lead the effort, rolling games of 245, 279 and 286 for an 810 series. Granda, who made her tournament debut, added games of 225, 269 and 256 for a 750 series.

The previous doubles record was held by USBC Hall of Famers Carolyn Dorin-Ballard and Lynda Barnes, who won the 2004 title with a 1,498 total.

Near-record scores also topped the standings in Diamond Team, Diamond Singles and Diamond All-Events.

On May 10, the members of Bowl 2 Win of Mechanicville, New York, rolled games of 883, 1,003 and 923 for a 2,809 total, the second-highest team series since the Women's Championships switched from five- to four-player teams in 2014.

The performance was led by Team USA member Liz Kuhlkin's 752 series, and she was joined by Robin Orlikowski (704), Jessica Aiezza (696) and Suzanne Morine (657).

The four-player team series record is 2,819, rolled by Bowlieve In A Cure of Arlington, Texas, during the 2014 event at the Reno-Sparks Convention Center.

Sharon Powers of Lakewood, Colorado, is in position to claim a title in back-to-back Women's Championships appearances after rolling an 801 in Diamond Singles on May 21.

Powers, who made her 45th tournament appearance in 2021, fired games of 289, 268 and 244 to become the 10th bowler to record an 800 series at the Women's Championships.

Her performance marked the second time a bowler has reached an 800 series in the singles event. Michelle Feldman of Auburn, New York, won Classic Singles in 2009 with an 816 series, which also took place at the National Bowling Stadium.

Powers captured her first win at the 2019 Women's Championships in Wichita, Kansas, helping Lakewood's Powerhouse claim the Diamond Team title.

Malaysia's Shalin Zulkifli averaged more than 250 for her nine games at the 2021 event to lead the way in Diamond All-Events with a 2,253 total May 12, the third-highest all-events score in tournament history.

Zulkifli, who won more than 90 medals in international competition during her career on the junior and adult versions of the Malaysian national team, rolled sets of 782 in team, 752 in doubles and 719 in singles.

Jodi Woessner of Oregon, Ohio, holds the all-events record at the Women's Championships with a 2,330 total, posted at the 2010 tournament in El Paso, Texas.

A pair of bowlers finished with the lead in multiple events at the 2021 Women's Championships.

Shalanda Nunn of Lafayette, Indiana, took the lead in Sapphire Singles and Sapphire All-Events on June 6 with scores of 671 and 1,740, respectively.

Nunn used games of 237, 253 and 181 to take over the top spot in singles, and she added sets of 587 in team and 482 in doubles to roll to the top of the leaderboard in all-events.

Rebecca Grant of Lake Havasu City, Arizona, finished the 2021 event at the top of the Topaz Doubles and Topaz All-Events standings after her performance June 11.

Grant paired with Dena Wasson of Enumclaw, Washington, to move into the lead in Topaz Doubles with a 907 total. Grant had a 531 series, and Wasson 376.

Grant added sets of 514 in singles and 461 in team to also take the all-events lead with a 1,506 total.

Her singles performance also placed her in the lead at the time, but she was passed by Joan Boesen of Bullhead City, Arizona, on June 24, who finished at the top of Topaz Singles with a 518 series.

In addition to the two 800 series rolled at the 2021 event, a pair of bowlers also connected for perfect games at the National Bowling Stadium.

Tina Williams of Pflugerville, Texas, was the first player in 2021 to achieve the feat, as she started her doubles set May 12 with 12 consecutive strikes.

The USBC Board member and former Team USA member added games of 225 and 212 for a 737 series, and her overall performance placed her in fifth in Diamond All-Events with 2,195.

Karen Barcal of Albuquerque, New Mexico, rolled 300 during her final game of team competition June 11. She had started her set with games 189, 235 for a 724.

Barcal made a second run at perfection during her doubles set the following day, rolling 299 in her second game on the way to a 787 series. She started doubles with 245 and finished with 243. She added 576 in singles for a 2,087 all-events total.

If she would have completed the second perfect game, she would have joined USBC and Professional Women's Bowling Association Hall of Famer Jeanne Naccarato of Tacoma, Washington, as the only bowlers at the Women's Championships with multiple 300 games, and Barcal would have become the first to roll two during the same tournament.

Barcal is the first bowler at the Women's Championships to roll both a 300 and 299 on the championship lanes.

Ruth Heath-Trott of Montpelier, Ohio, was the only bowler at the 2021 event to celebrate reaching 50 years of tournament participation when she made her milestone appearance May 9. Heath-Trott, president of the Ohio State USBC and 2017 Helen Baker Award for Outstanding Association Service recipient, began her tournament career at the 1970 Women's Championships in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and has only missed one tournament appearance along the way.

The 2021 Women's Championships did take a brief hiatus in May to welcome the USBC Queens to the National Bowling Stadium. The Queens is a major championship on the PWBA Tour.

Julia Bond of Aurora, Illinois, went undefeated in match play and defeated 2011 Queens champion Missy Parkin of Laguna Hills, CA, in the title match, 238-154, to capture her second career PWBA Tour title and first major championship.

The Women's Championships will head to the Chicago land area in 2022, as Stardust Bowl in Addison, Illinois, serves as host from April 24-July 10 (last team date).

Registration for the 2022 event is open.

Kovalova Successfully Defends Title At 2021 Louisville Open

by Aaron Smith

LOUISVILLE, KY. – Ukraine's Dasha Kovalova became the first player on the Professional Women's Bowling Association Tour since 2017 to successfully defend a title after capturing the win Saturday at the 2021 PWBA Louisville Open.

The 26-year-old right-hander capped a dominating performance during the week at Executive Strike and Spare with a 225-202 title-match victory over Missy Parkin of Laguna Hills, CA, to earn her second win of the season and fourth career PWBA Tour title.

The win garnered Kovalova a $10,000 top prize, and the championship round was broadcast live on BowTV.com.

She led all but the first round this week in Louisville, and she earned the top seed for the championship round by 274 pins over Julia Bond of Aurora, Illinois, who qualified second for the stepladder after 24 games.

Kovalova became the first player since Liz Johnson of Niagara Falls, New York, at the 2017 U.S. Women's Open to successfully defend a title. Johnson captured her fourth consecutive green jacket, and sixth overall, with her win at the major championship in Plano, Texas.

Kovalova's win at the 2019 Pepsi PWBA Louisville Open included a perfect game in the title match to defeat Johnson, 300-163. The performance made Kovalova just the fourth player to record a 300 game in a championship-round appearance.

"Being able to defend my title here really means a lot," said Kovalova, the 2019 United States Bowling Congress Queens champion. "I had the same opportunity at the Queens this year, and I let the pressure get to me and struggled. This week, even though the pressure was on. I was able to do it. I'm proud of myself."

In the title match, Kovalova set the tone and took the early lead with three consecutive strikes. An open frame in fifth from Parkin gave Kovalova a 33-pin lead after she responded with her fourth strike of the match in the sixth frame.

Parkin bounced back with three consecutive strikes, starting in the seventh frame, to put pressure on Kovalova heading into the final frames.

Finishing the match first, Kovalova tripped a 4 pin in the ninth frame for a strike and followed with another strike to start her 10th frame, giving her the opportunity to shut out Parkin.

Needing a third consecutive strike, or nine and a spare, to secure the win, she left a 4-7 combination and converted it, but that allowed Parkin the chance to roll three strikes in her final frame to force a tie.

Parkin's first delivery was left of target, and she left the 3-6-10 combination. "I was very nervous heading into the match and was relying on my ball reps to tell me what to do," said Kovalova, who also defeated Parkin to win the 2021 PWBA Twin Cities Open in April. "I tried to shut off my brain and just focus on not overthinking things and executing good shots. I threw some really good shots at the end and knew I did the best I could, so I was ready to accept whatever happened and roll with it."

Kovalova credited her support system in helping her during her title defense. She admitted to feeling anxious during the week and noted there was some additional pressure after her performance through qualifying, where she averaged more than 231 on the 44-foot oil pattern used during the event.

She was proud to be able to persevere through those moments to collect the title while posting a second consecutive season on tour with multiple wins.

"I'm not sure how I did it, because inside, I felt the most anxious I've ever been," said Kovalova, who made her fourth championship-round appearance of the season. "I had great help with me, though, and I just tried to stick to my process. Chuck (Gardner) gave me a book – "Learn To Win: One Shot at a Time" – and even though it's about golf, I read it, wrote down notes and kept rereading it and going through the cycle that was described, which really helped a lot."

"I'm afraid to disappoint people, so I felt very anxious because I had been leading for most of the week. I start to wonder what will happen if I throw it bad during the title match, but I know I have to just enjoy the journey."

Parkin, the No. 4 seed for the stepladder, advanced to the title match by defeating Bond in a tightly contested semifinal, 232-224. Bond delivered three strikes in the final frame to force Parkin to knock over at least nine pins on her first shot for the chance to move on and face Kovalova.

Parkin, who was looking for her first title since the 2011 Queens, rolled a strike and toppled seven pins on her second shot to collect the win.

She recorded her third runner-up finish of the 2021 season in her fourth championship-round appearance. In addition to the second-place finishes to Kovalova, she also lost to Bond in the title match of the Queens in May.

Bond was looking for her third win of the 2021 season. Along with the tiara at the Queens, Bond claimed the win at the PWBA Hall of Fame Classic in January. She was making her third championship-round appearance of the year.

Parkin began the stepladder with a 236-212 victory over two-time reigning PWBA Player of the Year Shannon O'Keefe of Shiloh, Illinois.

O'Keefe was making her third consecutive championship-round appearance, and fourth this season, after a runner-up finish at the PWBA Albany Open and third-place finish at last week's PWBA Greater Nashville Open. O'Keefe won her 14th career title to start the 2021 season at the PWBA Bowlers Journal Classic.

The 73-player field in Louisville bowled 12 games Friday, before the first cut to the top 32 athletes. Advancers bowled an additional six-game block Saturday morning, with the top 12 competing in a final six-game round to determine the four bowlers for the stepladder, based on 24-game pinfall totals.

Bowl to Save the RHINOS BOWL TO SAVE THE RHINOS

Our Next Event

The 4th Annual Reno Bowls For Rhinos and Cheetahs too, will be held on September 18, 2021 at the National Bowling Stadium in Reno!

"You can make a difference. This year's Bowling For Rhinos is happening Saturday September 18 at the National Bowling Stadium: from 4-9PM. Admissions is strictly donation only with a recommended donation of $10.00/person/game. Our Paypal donate button is ready for you now at www.renobowlsforrhinos.com. Also a link is at the bottom of this release.

Not so long ago there were eight (8) species of rhinos roaming the planet, some species with tens of thousands of individuals. Now we are down to five (5). Of these two, the Javan and Sumatran each have less than 100 individuals each. Two of the remaining three black and Southern Whites-in the not so distant past were outstanding comeback successes. Yet in the past ten years increased and highly sophisticated poaching is seeing up to a fifteen percent drop in these populations. Only the East Indian one-horned rhino is holding steady in its comeback from less than 100 animals to 3,300.

Help us help them. In our previous three events we raised a total of $17,000.00. Every penny of this money has gone directly to cutting edge conservation projects in Africa and Asia.* Bring your friends and family.

New Squad Schedule For USBC Open Championships

LAS VEGAS - The USBC announced that a new squad schedule will be put into place for the next three editions of the USBC Open Championships, begins 2022.

The change was a result of tracking start and finish times during the 2021 USBC Open Championships, along with bowler feedback during a variety of daily schedules in recent years. The adjustments are being made with on-time squads and bowler experience as the top areas of focus.

The new schedule will eliminate the late-night doubles and singles squad and end each day with a combination squad that will use half the facility for team competition and half for doubles and singles.

Team bowling in 2022, 2023 and 2024 will take place at 2 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. (combo), and doubles/singles squads will be held at 7 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 6 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. (combo). The event will continue to feature two oil patterns - one for the team event and one for doubles/singles - and fresh oil for every squad.

Since the new schedule will limit the maximum number of teams per day to 84, the 2022 tournament will be extended by two weeks and allow for a capacity of more than 10,600 teams. It will run from March 12-July 16 (last team date), which is 128 consecutive days of competition. If demand warrants, the tournament can be extended as far as July 31.

Captains of teams already signed up for the 2022 Open Championships that will be affected by the time changes will be notified by email.

The Open Championships will return to the South Point Bowling Plaza in 2022 and 2024, and the 2023 event will be held at the National Bowling Stadium in Reno, NV.

Verity Crawley Wins First Title At 2021 PWBA Greater Nashville Open

by Aaron Smith

SMYRNA, TN. – After several close calls during her first four seasons on the Professional Women's Bowling Association Tour, England's Verity Crawley broke through for her first victory Saturday at the PWBA Greater Nashville Open.

The 26-year-old right-hander won three matches in the stepladder at Smyrna Bowling Center on the way to the title and $10,000 top prize, defeating Poland's Daria Pajak in the final, 245-168. The championship round was broadcast live on BowITV.com.

Crawley had recorded four runner-up finishes on tour prior to her win Saturday, including a loss to Pajak, one of her tour roommates, in the championship match of the 2017 PWBA Greater Detroit Open.

"I've been working so hard and knocking on the door and been so close to breaking through," said Crawley, who made her third championship-round appearance of the season. "It's an amazing feeling to know all the hard work paid off and that I deserve to be here. I used to not have the confidence that I could win, and it's something I've worked on a lot. It's always special when you can share these moments with friends, and I'm very thankful for their support."

Crawley averaged 244 in her three wins Saturday, which included victories over Germany's Birgit Noreiks (246-214) and Shannon O'Keefe of Shiloh, Illinois (241-220), before recording the win against Pajak.

She was able to get ahead early in each match, rolling at least five strikes in her first six frames to build the advantage.

In the title tilt, Crawley was ahead by 55 pins after six frames, benefiting from a pair of opens and only one strike from Pajak. She already had locked up the win by the time she stepped up for her final frame.

"I just had really good ball motion and wanted to take advantage of that," Crawley said. "When you see your ball do the right thing, all you want to do is make the best shots possible and hope it works out in your favor. I was just focused on executing and making good shots. I didn't want to walk away with wanting to take back any shots. I wanted to be happy with every shot and really stay in the moment."

Both Crawley and Pajak faced visa issues that kept them out of the United States and prevented them from competing during the first part of the 2021 season, and Crawley has used that experience in changing her mindset while competing.

Prior to Saturday's victory, Crawley had recorded four top-10 finishes in her first six events this season, including back-to-back fourth-place finishes at the United States Bowling Congress Queens and PWBA BVL Open.

"My mindset changed when I went back to England in January and was unable to practice for three months," Crawley said. "When I came back to the U.S., I had three weeks to prepare for the PWBA Tour and had no expectations heading into that first event, but I was genuinely so happy to compete. I love being out here on tour and love bowling, and I haven't been as stressed about making cuts or anything like that. I haven't been thinking about those things because I just want to be here and bowl. I will have to head back to England after the Louisville stop because of my visa, so I'm really happy to be able to bring this trophy back to my parents after next week."

Crawley's run through the ladder almost did not take place, as she entered the final game of qualifying outside of the top four spots. She was able to jump ahead of Alexis Neuer of Milton, Pennsylvania, with a 207 game and hold off a late charge from Valerie Bercier of Muskegon, Michigan, who rolled 267 in the final game.

Crawley was the No. 4 seed with a 5,131 total, with Bercier (5,121) and Neuer (5,120) finishing in fifth and sixth place, respectively.

Pajak, who was looking for her second PWBA Tour title and making her first championship-round appearance of 2021, put together a phenomenal run on this week's 39-foot condition during the final two rounds of qualifying Saturday to earn the top seed for the stepladder with a 5,166 total.

The 2017 PWBA Rookie of the Year rolled 257 in the final game of the Round of 32 to advance to the final qualifying round in 11th place. She moved from 11th to first in the first five games of the final round and edged O'Keefe by three pins after 24 games to lead qualifying.

O'Keefe, the two-time reigning PWBA Player of the Year, was making her second consecutive championship-round appearance, and third overall, after a runner-up finish at last week's PWBA Albany Open.

The 14-time PWBA Tour titlist finished her semifinal match against Crawley with four consecutive strikes, starting in the eighth frame, followed by a nine-count on her fill ball, to force her to knock over nine pins in the final frame to advance. Crawley struck on her first delivery in the 10th frame to deny O'Keefe the chance for a second title this season.

PWBA Greater Nashville Open

O'Keefe won the season-opening PWBA Bowlers Journal Classic in January. Noreiks made her second championship-round appearance of the season Saturday after posting a third-place finish at the PWBA Greater Cleveland Open in May.

She was looking for her second career title but fell behind in the opening match after a 7-10 split in the fourth frame. She followed the open with three consecutive strikes, but spares in the eighth and ninth frames kept Crawley ahead in the match.

The 73-player field in Smyrna bowled 12 games Friday, before the first cut to the top 32 athletes. Advancers bowled an additional six-game block Saturday morning, with the top 12 competing in a final six-game round to determine the four bowlers for the stepladder, based on 24-game pinfall totals.

The PWBA Tour will return to Louisville, Kentucky, next week for the PWBA Louisville Open. The event will be held at Executive Strike and Spare and take place June 17-19. Ukraine's Dasha Kovalova is the defending champion at the event.

I bowled the PBA West Pinole Valley Open Presented by Galvan Dental Care in Pinole, CA this weekend.

After a long 20 games, I was able to come away with the the victory on the low scoring condition. Original Purple (2017) Hammer and 900 Global Zen were awesome all weekend on the 40 foot Don Johnson pattern.

I've made a lot of major timing changes in the last 3 months and they are all starting to come together. My wife, Julie, was with me for this one and she'll never really know how much it means to me that she gives me all the love and support I could ask for while I still chase the dream.

Thanks to Tim Cagle II for putting the tournament together and Josh (really Aimee) for running it smoothly.

Exciting action this past weekend in Pinole, CA. Congratulations, Jim Pratt, on winning his 6th career PBA Regional Title. He out lasted the field of 78 bowlers to take home $2,600 and the championship trophy. A big thank you goes out to Galvan Dental Care-Vallejo for their sponsorship of this premier event. Another than you to AMF and GM, Will Marthole and his staff, for hosting us this past weekend!

PBA West/Northwest Beehive Open

The PBA Regional Tour comes back after a long hiatus to the Beehive State! The best bowlers in the West (and a few from all over the world) will test their skills against the PBA Bear lane pattern.

The top 1/3 form A and B squad combined will move on to Sunday's cashers round after 8 games of qualifying.

Back in the winners circle!

Solid weekend here in Utah. Got to do a lot of extra curricular stuff with awesome people, and completed the main objective!

Big thanks to Sam and staff here at Jack and Jill lanes. Definitely looking forward to coming back to this one!

Congratulations to Mikey & Mary Tang! On their special day!

Church Looking To Purchase Bowling Alley (Nu Generation Lanes)

by Lynzie Lowe, Appeal-Democrat, Marysville, CA

May 21—A Yuba City landmark might soon be changing hands, as a local church is in talks to purchase the building that has housed the bi-county area's only bowling alley — Nu Generation Lanes.

Greg Mansur, lead pastor at Adventure Church of Yuba City, said the church has been searching for a place to call home permanently for the past several years while they continue to lease a warehouse space on Garden Highway.

"We have been shaking every bush, lifting every rock in search of a location big enough to accommodate our parish," said Mansur.

At this time, Mansur said the church has approximately 1,000 members and has continued to grow and thrive in recent months despite the many challenges brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic.

According to Mansur, the church was approached by local realtors and builders

(888) 512-0686 | BowlingMonkey.com
4631 Auburn Blvd
Sacramento, CA 95841

earlier this year, since many in the community knew they were in search of a large location, and were informed that the bowling alley would be closing and the building would soon be on the market.

Mansur said he and his team were excited for the opportunity and began talking to their realtor and the owners of the bowling alley to move forward with the process.

The parties came to an agreement, according to Mansur, in which the church would pay $3.7 million for the 45,000-square-foot building on the five-acre property. As part of the deal, all of the bowling equipment will be removed from the facility.

Mansur said they signed a contract earlier this month and entered into a due diligence period, which runs through the end of the month. At that time, the church will make their final decision about whether or not to move forward with the purchase.

"When we signed the contract with the owners on May 6, we were asked to hold off on making any announcement until the employees and bowlers could be notified," said Mansur. "We agreed on a 10-day window for that to take place, with an understanding that we would be making this announcement to our congregation and the community on Sunday, May 16th. Unfortunately, as we have learned, that did not take place, and we are so sorry that this was the way so many found out."

According to Mansur, the owners of the bowling alley never informed the bowlers, leagues or employees of the impending closure. The church's announcement on Facebook sparked quite a controversy.

The current owners of Nu Generation Lanes did not return calls for comment by the time of publication. While in the due diligence phase, Mansur said the church will continue collecting donations from the congregation to come up with the down payment for the facility. While excited, Mansur said the opportunity to purchase the bowling alley property is bittersweet.

"None of us want to see a business close in our community," said Mansur. "The bowling alley is much more than just a bowling alley...It is a place for families. A place families have gathered for generations. Bowling alleys leave a mark on the community." A 'great loss' for the community.

Some members of the Yuba-Sutter community, however, are not as excited about the possibility of losing the local bowling alley.

Local bowler James Anderson said he has been bowling since he was eight or nine years old and frequents Nu Generation Lanes upwards of three times per week.

Anderson said he has nothing against the church, but he is against them purchasing the building because of the great loss that will result for the community.

"If we lose this, what do we have left," said Anderson. "What will happen to the 80 and 90 year olds that come out and bowl each week and the kids or the handicap bowling league? Where will they go now?"

Anderson said he has reached out to members of the bowling community to find someone that could put in a counteroffer to purchase the building and keep the facility a bowling alley.

Nu Generation Lanes Closes

Anderson said he has talked with Mansur about other options within the Yuba-Sutter community and would be happy to keep his eyes peeled for other locations as they come up in the future.

While no formal announcement has been made, Anderson said the bowling alley is expected to stay open at least through mid-July, since there are already several bowling league tournaments scheduled.

"I'm really sad it's going away," said Tyler. "It's where I spent my childhood and my early adult years competing in junior and adult tournaments and leagues with my best friends. Everyone there is like family to me. Ray, Will, James, Gloria, Keith and so many more people that have been huge influences on my life."

Tyler said his mom, Laura, was well known there and when she passed away last year, acquaintances from the bowling alley were some of the first people to be by his side.

"The memories I have there I will treasure for the rest of my life," said Tyler. "I won't ever forget hugging my mom and lifting her in the air after I finished off my first 300 game, or being on a first place team for the first time with Javier Lopez's team on Jackpot Reno, the Aardvarks."

Next steps Mansur said if and when the church purchases the building, they plan to keep it a community-driven facility, which can be used by members of not only the church but the entire community.

According to Mansur, they hope to have an on-site cafe, playground and youth center so it is a place where the whole family can enjoy.

Update: As of July 31, 2021, Nu Generation Lanes is officially closed. Many staff members, bowlers and leagues have moved to Beale Lanes Bowling Center at Beale Air Force Base. See photo below.

Ron Case Wins 6 Gamer @ Yosemite Lanes

We had 48 entries this past Sunday July 18th on the PBA Petraglia pattern.

Ron Case of Oakley qualified 2nd with a 1456 6game total (a 242 average). Ron then went on and defeated the #3 seed Craig Miller of Tracy 263 to 258 in the semi-final match. In the final match Ron defeated the #1 seed Noel Vasquez of Sacramento 227 to 222.

This is Ron's first Yosemite Lanes 6 Gamer title and automatically qualifies him into our Tournament of Champions. Congrats to Ron and all the other cashers.

CALIFORNIA Bowlers Rank High Among PWBA Tour Leaders

by Frank Weiler

The 2021 PWBA Tour season continues. After the Louisville Open eleven champions have been crowned. Two of those championships have been won by California's own Stephanie Zavala, a Tour rookie.

There have been many exciting moments on this season's Tour including Liz Johnson rolling a perfect 300 game during the BOWL-TV step ladder finals at the Lincoln, Nebraska Open.

That perfect earned Liz a $10,000 bonus and helped place her second on this season's Earnings List.

Our CALIFORNIA Tour players are doing very well. Missy Parkin of Laguna Hills and Stephanie Zavala of Downey both rank high on most PWBA Tour Leader Lists. Parkin is tied for first with four Championship Round Appearances while Zavala is tied for first with two Championships. Stephanie's numbers are more the amazing because she didn't participate in the first three tournaments of the season.

The ranking of our California bowlers on the PWBA Tour Leader List follows:

Earnings:

- | | |
|---------------------|----------|
| First Place | $44,450 |
| 5. Missy Parkin | 31,050 |
| 6. Stephanie Zavala | 25,050 |

DEMAIO, LOGAN, RICKETTS & WESTERMAN Inducted Into Citrus Belt Hall of Fame

by Frank Weiler

REDLANDS – Patience is a virtue. Bowlers are patient. We proved we are patient during these past 400 days. We have patiently waited these past 400 days to bowl again. We are still waiting patiently for our leagues to restart and our local tournaments to roll again. Worst still, our bowling honorees and their families have waited too long for their names to be enshrined in our hallowed Halls of Fame.

Finally, our latest Citrus Belt USBC Hall of Fame selectees were publicly honored. Last Saturday our 2020 Class of inductees were enshrined in our Association's Hall of Fame. Yes, I wrote correctly when stating the Class of 2020. The Class of 2020 is being inducted in 2021! And you know why.

With an audience of over 100 bowlers looking on, Citrus Belt President MIKE RADDEMAN gave some opening remarks and proclaimed "Bowling is back in the Inland Empire". Moments later Master of Ceremonies and Vice President CURT SNYDER introduced our four Hall of Fame inductees and described their accomplishments for everyone present:

KENNY DEMAIO has averaged 200 or better for over 40 years with a high of 241. He has rolled numerous perfect 300 games and 800 series, with a high of 855. He has won numerous tournaments and some say he may be the best bowler in the DeMaio family! Better than Corky DeMaio? How can that be when many consider Corky to be one of the best to ever bowl in the Citrus Belt? Kenny and dad Corky are the only father and son members of our Hall of Fame.

BILL LOGAN may be the best bowler ever to bowl in the Yucca Valley. He is one of only four bowlers to roll a 800 series at Yucca Bowl. That's one of only four 800 series rolled at Yucca Bowl in about 50 years!

Yucca Bowl is known for its low scoring and is rated the lowest scoring house in the Citrus Belt. I have bowled there in our Citrus Belt Masters Tournament and qualified for Match Game Finals averaging in the high 190's. That's low for our Masters Tournament. That's why Logan's 212 average there could be considered the equivalent to a 250 average in our higher scoring houses. Bill has rolled several perfect 300 games and several 800 series. He has won many tournaments including ABT, ABTA and MABI events.

Bill's seven Citrus Belt tournament titles is among the highest number recorded in Association history. Only Corky DeMaio and Curt Snyder are known to have won more Association Titles.

JOEL RICKETTS entire life has revolved around the sport of bowling. He was a bowling "Boy Wonder" rolling honor scores and winning junior tournaments at an early age. When graduating to adult leagues he dominated averaging over 230 on a regular basis. Many perfect 300 games and 800 series followed and Joel was soon competing in PBA Regional and National tournaments. He cashed against some of the best professional bowlers in the world.

Joel met his beautiful wife Jennifer bowling. He chose bowling for his career and has gone on to become the proprietor of several SoCal Pro Shops. Joel now resides in Texas doing the same. He wished to offer special thanks to DAVE GULLEY for everything Dave has done for him.

KEVIN WESTERMAN has bowled since grammar school. He started at home with a plastic ball and pins. That's where he bowled his first 300 game. Soon he was a junior league sensation and then an adult league superstar. With over a dozen perfect 300 games and several 800 series to his credit Kevin was good enough to compete as a PBA player. His greatest claim to fame as a PBA competitor was beating the great Walter Ray Williams Jr. in a match.

Kevin is known as too many bowlers in the Citrus Belt as a Bowling Center Manager. That's how I first met him a decade ago when he worked at Moreno Valley Bowl. Within the local area Kevin has a reputation for his professionalism and knowledge of the sport of bowling.

LARISSA SEDLER, Citrus Belt Association Manager, extends her congratulations to the latest class of Association Hall of Fame members.

July 22: It is with a heavy heart that we share the news of Jackie "Grandma" Loveridge's passing yesterday.

She was a beloved friend and coworker to us for 20 years - making sure birthday parties were special.

May she rest in peace with her husband, Bob "Grandpa" Loveridge who helped us coach youth bowlers for many years.

Their love for bowling inspired them to renew their wedding vows here on our lanes! Sending love and strength to her family at this difficult time.

A Practice Plan for Improving Your Versatility

Here's a simple way to improve versatility and lane play skills at the same time. Each segment should last about 10 minutes, or for a single game: (Bowling This Month)

1. Warm up
2. Bowl with different hand positions, using one ball
3. Bowl with different balls, using one hand position
4. Spend time shooting spares, preferably corner pins
5. Select the best ball and hand position based on previous observation and bowl a game for score

Slimmed Down AJ Chapman Has Sights Set On First PBA Tour Title

by Jill Winters (FLOBOWLING)

In March, he earned a fourth-place finish at the PBA Odessa Southwest Spring Open. Two months later, at the 10th annual PBA FireLake/Grand Casino Resort Southwest Open, he won his fourth PBA regional title. And he just teamed up with Breanna Clemmer for a ninth-place finish at the PBA/PWBA Striking Against Breast Cancer Mixed Doubles.

Before his recent success, it was what he saw after watching himself on TV while finishing fifth at the 2021 PBA Players Championship Southwest Region finals in January that led him to want to make some changes.

"I watched it and I was pretty upset with how I looked," the 27-year-old admitted. To help himself on-and-off the lanes he reverted to the Ketogenic diet that had worked for him before. But this time he made sure to include working out. He dropped 25 pounds on the Keto diet.

He knew his diet wouldn't be a permanent fix, but he felt it would get him to a point where he would start eating better and exercising to get his body to where he wanted it to be.

"I try to hold myself accountable and to stay disciplined," he said about his efforts to stay healthy. "I have used my social media quite a bit when I am working out to hopefully inspire others to make a change and to better themselves, too."

Chapman, who now calls Double Oak, TX, home, has even been approached by people who have read his posts and tell him that encouraged them to start exercising, which he said is pretty cool.

Since committing to his healthier lifestyle, he feels lighter on his feet, and he gets loose in the morning easier than ever before. He has already lost over 40 pounds and, as a result, he has also had to tweak a few aspects of his game.

He noticed he was taking his first two steps a lot quicker after he began shedding the extra weight, so he had to be more conscientious of that to make sure he was keeping those steps slow and smooth.

"My body was changing so I had to adapt a little bit," he said. "Just let my swing be free and make sure I continue to use my legs."

Those small changes have been paying off.

"I really do think that I am physically throwing the ball as sharp as I ever have," the fifth-year PBA Tour player said. "I feel really good. I'm comfortable, and I'm confident."

His confidence along with the other PBA players confidence will be tested beginning on Saturday at the third stop on the PBA Summer Tour, the PBA Jonesboro Open.

"Patience is the big thing because Jonesboro is one of those bowling centers that has a really tough lane surface," Chapman said. "The scores have been historically low there so knowing that it is going to be a grind, I think my mental state is probably at its best going into this building."

To keep his mental game strong, the three-time member of Team USA continues to re-read books that he first read while attending and bowling at Wichita State University. His two favorites, "The Inner Game of Tennis: The Classic Guide to the Mental Side of Peak Performance" by W. Timothy Gallwey and "Way of the Peaceful Warrior" by Dan Millman.

"If I am going to better myself physically then I should better myself in all aspects of my game," he said. "If your mental game is sharp all it is going to do is make your physical game better."

Mentally, Chapman knows the Jonesboro Open is going to require him to have a sharp spare shooting game and to take it one shot at a time. He hasn't had much success at the Hijinx Family Entertainment Center in his first two attempts, but last year, he had his best results. He missed out on a paycheck by just 11 pins, finishing in 24th place.

With this tournament featuring the Marshall Holman 41-foot oil pattern on an already tough lane surface, Chapman expects urethane balls to be in play. He is positive that he is headed in the right direction.

"I just want to get to a point where I am happy with the way I look and feel," he said. "People should aspire to get to a spot where they are happy. That is the most important thing."

Shawn Maldonado Wins In Lubbock, Claims Second PBA Tour Title

by Jef Goodger (FLOBOWLING)

July 25th: Shawn Maldonado won his second PBA Tour title of 2021 by defeating Jake Peters in the championship match of the PBA Lubbock Sports Open.

Maldonado, who won his first career title earlier this season in the PBA Chameleon Championship, overcame a strange fifth frame in which both Peters and Maldonado opened.

After a rare gutter ball from Peters, who then got nine on his second shot, Maldonado had a chance to cut into Peters' lead but left a 7-10 split.

"When it went in the gutter, it was obviously a shock," said Maldonado, "but I thought that was my chance. I was on a double, I threw it as well as I could, but left the pocket 7-10. That was a good shot, but I knew I had to make a ball change to face up a little better. That's when I got rolling."

Maldonado began a new string of strikes after the open frame in the fifth, eventually catching and passing Peters for the victory.

"I'm just as excited to get this win as I was to get the first one," said Maldonado. "I'm confident, excited and thankful for the support I get back home. There are so many emotions right now."

While a string of strikes helped him win the championship match, Maldonado credited his spare game with earning the No. 1 seed.

"I've been working on my spares," said Maldonado. "In the past, I've had some good days when I make spares and then the next day my spare game is kind of off. Coming into the Summer Tour, I've really been working on my spare game and my touch. It paid off."

With the win, Maldonado also takes the early lead in the PBA Summer Tour points race, with a $40,000 bonus prize fund that includes $20,000 for the player who accumulates the most competition points during the five events.

Andrew Anderson Wins 2021 PBA Strike Derby

by Jef Goodger (FLOWBOWLING)

July 12: Andrew Anderson out-struck 11 other PBA players to win the 2021 PBA Strike Derby. "I knew, against Simo, I would need to throw as many as I could," said Anderson. "I knew he was going to get more shots off than me, so I had to make better shots. That's all I could think about."

Simonsen, the higher seed, chose to have Anderson bowl first. In two minutes, Anderson struck 11 times. Simonsen was unable to catch the total, striking nine times to finish second.

"My goal was to get 18 shots off every round," said Anderson. "I did a couple practices and I could get to 20 shots, but they weren't quality. Eighteen was the most I could get and still have enough good shots. I got some breaks along the way, but the energy from the crowd kept me going."

In each round of the PBA Strike Derby, players were given two minutes to strike as many times as possible. After all 12 players had a turn in the qualifying round, the top six advanced to the match play bracket.

Anderson qualified as the No. 5 seed. He, along with four others, rolled nine strikes in the qualifying round, tying for fourth. Ties were broken first by longest string of strikes, then by fastest ball speed, leaving Kyle Troup, Anderson and Wes Malott inside the cut to the top six for match play. EJ Tackett and Sean Rash fell outside.

"I feel like this is my environment," said Anderson. "When I grew up, I just rapid-fired shots. I tend to thrive in these types of situations. I love it."

In head-to-head match play, Anderson put up 12 strikes to eliminate Troup, who managed five strikes. In the semifinals, Anderson defeated top seed Norm Duke, 8-4, to advance to the championship match with Simonsen.

"I just feel comfortable here," said Anderson. "I bowl well in this building, my ball strikes quite a bit here and I threw a lot of messengers. I'm not really known for throwing a lot of pins around, but I felt like Troup and Simo a little bit today. It was awesome. What a fun time."

EJ Tackett, Danielle McEwan Win 2021 PBA/PWBA Mixed Doubles

by Lucas Wiseman

Houston - EJ Tackett and Danielle McEwan established a big lead early in the round robin finals and hung on to win the title Sunday at the 2021 Storm PBA/PWBA Striking Against Breast Cancer Mixed Doubles.

In the total pins format, Tackett and McEwan amassed a total of 9,279 over 20 games at Copperfield Bowl to win the event which supports the fight against breast cancer.

Leading by 175 heading into the position round game, Tackett and McEwan defeated Tannya Roumimper and Francois Lavoie, 426-419, to officially lock up the victory. Roumimper and Lavoie finished second with 9,067.

Liz Johnson and Anthony Simonsen battled within range of McEwan and Tackett late in the block but faded down the stretch to finish third with 9,026.

It's the second time Tackett has won the PBA/PWBA Mixed Doubles, claiming the title with Johnson in 2018. It gave Tackett his 14th PBA career title and first since the 2019 PBA Tour Finals. For McEwan, it was her first win at the event and increased her career PWBA title count to six.

In previous years, Tackett has teamed up with Johnson, while McEwan has competed with Simonsen.

In 2020, Tackett and McEwan were scheduled to compete in an event in Australia that conflicted with the mixed doubles, so that allowed Johnson and Simonsen to pair up for a year.

However, both events were canceled in 2020 and when the roster for the mixed doubles was just moved forward for 2021, they decided to keep their new partners for this year's event.

The event began with four qualifying squads over two days as each team in the field bowled one seven-game block of qualifying. The top 40 teams advanced to Sunday morning's semifinals, which was another five games.

The top eight battled it out Sunday afternoon in the finals for the $20,000 first-place prize, eventually taken home by Tackett and McEwan.

After the win, Tackett told FloBowling he was dedicating the victory to the Peters family.

PBA champion Jake Peters lost his wife Melissa to cancer earlier this year.

Some exciting moments here at the SABC Mixed Doubles....we had two 300s going into the 11th frame with Darren Tang successfully carrying the last two shots for the 300. Congratulations Darren!

Thank you to Mike Nelson and his staff at Copperfield Bowl for hosting our tournament! We had such a great time and appreciate all the support!

1st Place is projected to pay $10,000

16th Place is projected to pay $1,000

Final cash spot guaranteed to pay a minimum of $600. Non cashing teams each player received $200.

SENIORS

Central Valley Senior Bowling Club

We had 94 bowlers, or 47 doubles, at our tournament on 7-17-21 at McHenry Bowl and gave out $2068 in prize money. Qualifying 1st was Micki & Randy Wu, from Stockton, with 1931.

In 2nd was Cindy & Mike James, from Modesto, with 1908. In 3rd was Dan Erreca, from Oakdale, and Mike Coe, from Merced, with 1875. In the roll-off Erreca & Coe bowled 417 vs the James' 453. In the final roll-off the James' bowled 415 against the Wu's 446.

The Wu's are our newest champions.

The prize fund was as follows:

- | | |
|------------------------------------|-------|
| 1. Micki & Randy Wu | $380 |
| 2. Cindy & Mike James | $304 |
| 3. Dan Erreca & Mike Coe | $240 |

Bowlers roll for big bucks at Kings Bowl

BY JEFF CARTER

With a total prize fund reaching nearly $10,000, some of the top semi-professional bowlers from the West Coast showed up for the 12th Annual Gail Smith Scratch Doubles tournament at Kings Bowl the weekend of Dec. 13 and 14.

Since the open-minded event which pairs one man with one woman bowler is one of only two tournaments of its stature in Northern California, only the classiest rollers — mostly those with 200 averages or better — dare fork over the $100+ person entry fee to put their game on the line.

"This is the biggest tournament in Northern California for this time of year," said tournament Director Cheryl Byrd.

"There's another one like this in Stockton during the summer."

but that's about it," she said. Byrd said that bowlers from as far away as San Diego make the Gail Smith each year, and professionals who have toured the pro circuit — like Kim Canally and Larry Lamb — still take part in the prestigious two-day event.

This year's champions were Denise Sturgeon and Dennis Hogan of greater San Jose, winners by 265 pins over Ann Wilson and Mike Crawford.

The Sturgeon-Hogan duo netted the winner's share of $1,850, while the runners-up received $930.

Peninsula Jackie Wycoff of Redwood City made the best local showing, teaming up with Sunnyside's Mike Claus to finish fifth, good for $500.

They looked like serious contenders going into the finals after qualifying third-highest among the 37 teams entered.

Wycoff couldn't have picked a better partner — Claus bowled 300 game on the opening day qualifying.

"That was my third 300 game the week," said Claus.

"That's happened to me before where I get them in bunches. The last time I had back-to-back 300 games in two days. When I throw a lot of strikes, I just feel like I can keep throwing more," he said.

Gail Smith — a Millbrae resident and the daytime manager of Kings Bowl — almost always poses a serious threat going into her self-named tournament, as she and her partner, Rich Voss, have been in the top five for each of the past six years.

This year, however, they failed to crack the top 10.

Smith, who won this tourney in 1991 and finished second in 1992, has captured two six-figure Canams.

functioned professional bowling tournaments over the past 10 years — the Western Women's 70 Bowlers, and the California State Queens.

Smith said that the high level of competition level here is a direct result of area sponsors, who put up an additional $2,000 in prize money to help bring the silent.

"Places like Millbrae Jewelers, Larry's Twining, Embassy Suites, Clarion Hotels, and a whole bunch of others have been great about supporting this tournament over the years," said Smith.

News — Other local Gail Smith Doubles Tournament sponsors include: Kinsman Upholstery, Sweet Treats, Peninsula Ball Bonds, Gama, Trophies, Rob Baker Olympic Gas, Bowlers Connection, Re Max Realty, and a new addition, the new Canam.

Amleto Monacelli Wins The PBA50 Odessa Open presented by Diamond Lanes Monday.

by Jerry Schneider

July 7, 2021: Amleto Monacelli added another milestone to his Hall of Fame career by winning the PBA50 Odessa Open presented by Diamond Lanes Monday for his 10th career PBA50 Tour title.

Entering the finals as the No. 2 seed, the 59-year-old Monacelli defeated top qualifier Dan Knowlton 236-224 in the title match for his first win of the season.

After converting the 1-2-4-10 washout in the first frame, striking in the second, and making another spare in the third frame of the title match, the 20-time PBA Tour winner went on to string six consecutive strikes which was enough to clinch the win.

"I wasn't thinking about a 10th PBA50 title," Monacelli said. "I was focusing on taking it shot by shot, stay in the moment and make the best shot possible. If something goes wrong, fix it, and trust your decision."

Monacelli put that philosophy to the test in a wild finish to the semifinal match when he threw a gutter on the first ball of the final frame, which fortunately, came after a strike in the ninth. Monacelli recovered by making the spare and then struck on the fill ball in the 10th to beat No. 3 seed Brad Angelo 213-210 to advance to the title match.

"I was playing close to the gutter and overthrew it," Monacelli said of his errant shot. "I knew it was too fast when I let it go and I said 'come on' throw a good shot. I moved further right and threw the ball straighter which was the right adjustment."

Knowlton, trying for his first PBA50 Tour win, earned top-qualifier honors for the finals by defeating then-tournament leader Monacelli in the match play position round, 290-223, earlier in the day.

Knowlton's runner-up finish was his second finals appearance of the season having finished fifth in the Bud Moore Classic in May.

In the opening stepladder match, No. 5 seed 2018 PBA50 Tour Rookie of the Year Rolando Sebelen, making his first career finals appearance, defeated Bud Moore Classic winner No. 4 seed John Marsala 221-217 to advance to the second stepladder match.

In the second match, Angelo beat Sebelen 279-238 to advance to the semifinal match against Monacelli. Angelo, who was also trying for his first win, has two runner-up finishes this season which came in the Bud Moore Classic and Granville Financial Open.

The PBA50 Tour will take a three-week break before returning to action with the PBA50 South Shore Open July 26-29 from Olympia Lanes in Hammond, Ind.

OPERATION FREEDOM PAWS

(A 501(c)3 non profit organization founded in 2010 by Gilroy Bowler & Veteran, Mary Cortani)

Operation Freedom Paws provides service dogs & training to VETERANS who suffer from post-traumatic stress syndrome, complex PTSD, traumatic brain injury, and other physical, neurological, psychological and mobility needs. VETERANS are carefully matched up with their specially chosen four-legged companions, most which come from rescue shelters, and they begin a committed 48-week program that trains the VETERAN to train their own dog. At the end of the program they are certified together as a service dog team, at absolutely no cost to the VETERAN whatsoever.

They have become "Four Paws, Two Feet, One Team"

JUNIORS

Gregory Thompson Jr.
Great Ambassador To The Game!

My whole life my mom has been on me about how I act in a bowling center. She always told me that I never know who might be watching.

I've never really looked at myself as a role model. I just do my thing and then I leave. Last night at the King of the Hill I bowled next to Peyton. Peyton is 12 years old and bowls a lot of the junior events in Arizona. She is a student of the game and is an up and coming superstar.

After I was finished with the event she gave me the best compliment I've ever received. She said "You are a really good bowler". I responded with "thank you, you are pretty darn good yourself." She then said "I'm really impressed by how good your attitude was. You never got mad when you split. You left a lot of single pins and you just smiled and shot the spare."

So many people get upset and stomp their feet, kick ball returns, and are just angry". I was floored. While I normally don't kick things, I rarely look happy and positive when bowling.

Little did she know I don't normally bowl left handed and was just bowling for fun. I bowled 663 which is my highest set ever left handed. After the event we talked for an hour about bowling discussing bowling balls and lane play. She has more knowledge of the game at 12 than I did at 22.

Moral of the story is my mom was right..... You never know who is watching. Sometimes you don't have a choice to be a role model or not. It just comes with the territory.

David Dahms Sportsmanship Award 12-and-under division

- Girls: Peyton Smith, Tomahawk, Wis.
- Boys: Axel Beckes, Anchorage, Alaska

ARLINGTON, TX - Eight competitors from the 2021 Junior Gold Championships have been selected to receive the David Dahms Sportsmanship Award.

The winners were determined by the International Bowling Campus Youth Committee based on nominations received from participants at this year's Junior Gold Championships, which was held across six bowling centers in the Indianapolis area in July.

The David Dahms Sportsmanship Award is given to competitors who best exemplify sportsmanship, leadership, positive attitude and enthusiasm during the Junior Gold Championships. The honor is awarded to one male and one female participant in each division.

Each winner in the 12-and-under (U12), U15, U18 and U20 divisions receives a 100-point SMART scholarship. The 2021 winners are:

15-and-under division

- Girls: Elizabeth Houseman, Georgetown, DE

- Boys: Evan Chin, Colonia, N.J.

18-and-under division

- Girls: Taylor Jensen, Sun Prairie, Wis.
- Boys: Andrew Anderson, Hampton, Va.

20-and-under division

- Girls: Rachel Kuczajda, Pinckney, Mich.
- Boys: Jacob Wilson, Georgetown, Del.

The award is named for David Dahms, who was instrumental in the development and launch of the Junior Gold program.

YBT HAS RETURNED!!!

By Mike Hillman

A great start and return of the Youth Bowlers Tour. We are very happy to say that 121 Youth Bowlers showed up and hit the lanes this past Sunday at Earl Anthony's Dublin Bowl. A great number considering so many have not put much time back on the lanes since reopening.

We awarded over $7,600.00 in scholarships to the youth bowlers at this one day event.

Top 3 Finishers in each division:

Bronze: 169 & below handicapped

1. Stig Pagh $600.00 scholarship & Storm Ball
2. Derrald Monteverde $400.00 scholarship
3. Ethan Soares $300.00 scholarship

Silver: 170-194 Scratch Boys

1. Antonio Gonzalez $500.00 scholarship & Storm Ball
2. Ernesto Reynoso $375.00 scholarship
3. Jamison Riley $275.00 scholarship

Diamond: Girls Scratch

1. Melanie Katen $500.00 scholarship & Storm Ball
2. Jennifer Loreda $375.00 scholarship
3. Alyssa Alexander $275.00 scholarship

Gold Division: 195 & above Scratch Boys

1. Tyler Betz $500.00 scholarship & Storm Ball
2. Randolph Cuartero $375.00 scholarship
3. Jonah Martin $275.00 scholarship

Thank you to our GREAT sponsors ... Storm Bowling and Logo Infusion "I Am Bowling". You make us look great and we can't thank you enough for your support of the YBT and to Youth Bowling!

Thank you to the Family of Volunteers that make these events run. Kelly & Keith Martin. Gary Silvanic, Terri Weinstein, Patty Ambur and a big thank you to Stan Alexander for filling big shoes this month. We missed a few big names this month ... Photographer of the bowling community Kimberly Power-Defer, ticket wizard Steve Tom and of course the big man with the big shoes to fill, Brandon Alexander.

Our next event will take place on Sunday, August 15, 2021 and again at Earl Anthony's Dublin Bowl for a Youth / Adult Doubles. This event will be limited to only 80 doubles teams. Please sign up quickly to assure your spot.

Starting in September, we will start moving the events around Nor Cal once again. I will start working on a schedule soon.

Thank you again to all of the families for attending our first event since February of 2020. As I said at the start of the event on Sunday, life has changed dramatically for me within bowling.

Losing Cloverleaf Family Bowl has been devastating to my family and to the families that bowled there and who live in Fremont. The YBT brought back some normalcy to me. Seeing my bowling family together was healing.

I WILL see you on the lanes!

17 Year Old Jillian Martin Leads After Opening Day Of 2021 PWBA BowITV Classic

By Matt Cannizzaro

ARLINGTON, TX - Two rounds of head-to-head match play were completed Monday at the 2021 Professional Women's Bowling Association BowITV Classic, and Junior Team USA member Jillian Martin of Stow, Ohio, tops the 24-player standings with eight games remaining.

The 17-year-old right-hander averaged more than 214 and posted the best match-play record of the day, 13-3, to set the pace at the International Training and Research Center. All rounds of competition are being broadcast live on BowITV.

The lead changed hands frequently throughout the day, first belonging to two-time PWBA Tour champion Julia Bond of Aurora, Illinois, who kicked off the action with the third perfect game of the four-event PWBA Summer Classic Series.

A half-dozen players occupied the top spot at some point during the 16 games on the 41-foot oil pattern, with Martin being one of them, and she was able to catapult from third place back into the lead with a 241 effort and a victory in her final game Monday night.

Martin finished with a 3,821 total and was followed by Latvia's Diana Zavjalova (3,818), England's Verity Crawley (3,725), Jordan Richard of Maumee, Ohio (3,631), and Bryanna Coté of Tucson, Arizona (3,603).

"The whole day, I just tried to stick to my process, make good shots and stay calm, and at the end, I was fortunate enough to find a look very different from the end of the first block," said Martin, who ended the day's first eight-game block with 166. "I made the best shots I could and finished with a big game, which was pretty cool."

The 24 bowlers qualified for the BowITV Classic, the final tournament of the 2021 Summer Classic Series, based on their 18-game qualifying totals from the PWBA Go Bowling Classic and PWBA International Bowling Campus Classic (nine games each).

Martin averaged 210.33 over the two days of qualifying and finished 17th in the BowITV Classic rankings. She finished tied for 13th in the Go Bowling Classic and 22nd in the IBC Classic, cashing in both events.

"I'm not too disappointed in the first two events because I know there were a few things that were so close to being right where I wanted them to be, and that when they clicked, it would feel really good, and I feel like that kind of happened out here today," Martin said. "In the first event, I just barely missed the cut, and a couple bad shots and missed spares cost me. In the second event, I missed the opportunity to close out a couple games and left splits, which was at least 75 pins. I just need to learn from those things and continue to get better."

All pinfall dropped heading into the BowITV Classic, and total pinfall, plus bonus pins for each win or tie in match play, will determine the five players for Tuesday's stepladder finals, which will be broadcast live at BowITV.com at 9 p.m. Eastern.

Martin understands the need to take advantage of the times she has a great look and grind when she doesn't, as well as how important bonus pins are in the match-play format.

"Games 3 and 4, I bowled on the same pair and had some trouble with one of the lanes, but I was able to grind through those games and get two Ws, which is really important in this format," Martin said. "Tomorrow, I'll come in with the same thought process and keep going after those wins. I think if I can have another good day, we should be able to make the show and have a chance to go out and win a title."

Martin was the recipient of a special exemption into the Summer Classic Series from the USBC and Bowling Proprietors' Association of America.

The opportunity was due in part to her memorable performance at the 2021 PWBA Kickoff Classic Series, also at the ITRC, where she turned in finishes of eighth, second and third and rolled a 299 game live on BowITV along the way.

She is looking to become the youngest bowler in history to win a national PWBA event, a record owned by USBC and PWBA Hall of Famer Wendy Macpherson, who won the U.S. Women's Open at 18.

The 2021 PWBA Summer Classic Series brought 56 players, representing more than a dozen countries, to the ITRC.

Germany's Birgit Noreiks took home the title at the Go Bowling Classic for her first individual win and second victory overall, while former Team USA member Jen Higgins of Lewis Center, Ohio, won the IBC Campus Classic on Saturday for her first PWBA Tour title.

The Summer Classic Series also included the 2021 PWBA Dallas/Fort Worth Regional, won by past Junior Team USA member Taylor Bailey of Joliet, Illinois, a member of the 2021 PWBA Tour rookie class.
