

Serious Bowler Or Serious Bowling Fan The USBC Masters Has Something For Everyone

GREENDALE, Wis.- Whether you are a serious bowler or a bowling fan, you can take part in the United States Bowling Congress Masters experience.

Tickets for the ESPN-televised finals of the 2007 Masters at Milwaukee's Miller Park are currently on sale and as a bonus to those who purchase a Masters finals ticket, a free ticket to the third annual Bowlfest is included.

The Masters finals will be conducted on Sunday, Oct. 28 at 1 p.m. Eastern (noon Central) on specially-constructed lanes in Miller Park's infield. It will mark the second time the Masters finals have been held at the home of the Milwaukee Brewers. Eleven-time Denny's PBA Tour titlist Danny Wiseman won the inaugural Miller Park event in 2004 in front of a crowd of more than 4,300.

TV finals ticket prices range from $10 to $75. There are several ways bowling fans may purchase tickets and obtain additional information:

- * Order through the Miller Park ticket office at (414) 902-4000.
- * Visit the Miller Park ticket office.
- * Click on www.tickets.com or visit a tickets.com outlet.
- * Ticket information is also available on bowl.com.

Bowlfest is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 27 from 6-9 p.m. at Miller Park. The bowling festival features entertainment, an opportunity for fans to meet bowling stars and get an up-close look at the finals installation on the field.

Other scheduled Bowlfest attractions will include:

*Opportunity to meet and get autographs of USBC, PBA Hall of Famers, Masters finalists and Milwaukee sports personalities.

*PBA Trick shot exhibition by PBA stars such as Norm Duke, Parker Bohn III, Chris Barnes, Mike Machuga and Brian Voss.

*Make a donation to USBC charities and get a chance to bowl on the championship lanes in Miller Park.

Joe Goldstein, Sr. Notches PRO Win #2

With Strong Showing at September 9 Event At Diablo Lanes

Lane conditions were more challenging than expected, but Joe Goldstein, Sr. was up to the task. The 2006 PBA Western Region Rookie of the Year showed how tough he is, tossing a 1,745 total (eight games) to take a bow as The Champ. He earned $400 for his second PRO win, and did some damage in side pots, too.

Dave Rubin grabbed the runner-up spot by virtue of his 1,721 total. The lefty made it close, spending the day in a see-saw battle with Goldstein for the top spot, but ultimately took home the 2nd Place prize of $225 plus side pot earnings.

Jason Ross also made a strong run for the gold, overcoming a 179 start to finish in 3rd Place at 1,712. His share of the prize money was $150 plus side pot money.

The final Top Seven finishers were Jeff O'Connor (1,692 - $105), PRO newcomer Brent Bridges (1,629 - $95), Raymond Vasquez (1,602 - $90), and Rory Peterson (1,600 - $85).

Seeing as this was our 9th Anniversary Tournament, we had a couple just-for-fun drawings for free PRO entries. Those went to Paul Herrera and Rory Peterson. Other cashers on the day included Freddy Irvin, Mike Paiko, and Sue Peterson.

Check back with us for information on October tournament.

*Exhibition matches featuring bowling's top stars, USBC Team USA, local high school and collegiate bowlers.

*Music, food and fun for the entire family.

The Masters, a major tournament on the Denny's Professional Bowlers Association Tour, will be the first U.S. stop of the 2007-08 season.

Reigning PBA Player of the Year Doug Kent will attempt to defend his title against a field of approximately 500 of the world's top professional and amateur bowlers. Masters qualifying and match play rounds will be conducted Oct. 23-26 at AMF Bowlero Lanes in the Milwaukee suburb of Wauwatosa, Wis. Tickets for qualifying and match play at AMF Bowlero are $5 each day and will be available at the door.
